5. Course organization and content

The social construction of gender influence and structure women’s and men’s lives, it shapes their everyday experiences and the strategies they choose. Choices and constraints are mediated by gendered institutions, norms and policies. In this course, we try to disentangle how these experiences and choices are shaped by different institutional settings and sites in which gender relations are being renegotiated—in families, workplaces, in organizations and professions, in local/ national and political venues. How are gender relations being transformed by changing policies and discourses on gender equality and gender equity? To what extent are these changes producing differences among groups of men and women by age, ethnicity, religion, class, sexualities? These are issues that will be discussed in class.
The purpose of the course is to provide theoretical and empirical tools to assess the continuities and discontinuities in gender relations in advanced industrialized societies. The course aims to extend the knowledge base of gender in the social sciences; building upon the new research that recognizes gender as a dynamic and contested research terrain across different sites and within diverse groups. The course readings and lectures will reflect upon and engage with these perspectives.

The course will include a range of lecturers with different expertise in different spheres of doing gender: work, family, politics, sexualities, and ethnic/gender tensions. The course will focus on both lived experiences (how men and women do gender) as well as how actors in different arenas frame and apply gender.

6. Learning outcomes

After having completed the course, students will be able to:

- Understand, describe in theoretical terms and be able to apply in concrete situations the fundamental concepts in sociological theories and perspectives related to the causes and consequences of the social construction of gender in families, workplaces, organizations and professions, in local/national and political venues.
- Compare, synthesize and evaluate different theoretical explanations for stability and change in gender structures and patterns of behavior in contemporary societies.
- Understand, explain and cite appropriate evidence for sources of stability, change and variation in gender structures and patterns of behavior in contemporary societies.
- Understand, explain and cite appropriate evidence for consequences of stability, change and variation in gender structures and patterns of behavior in contemporary societies.
- Understand, describe in theoretical terms and apply in concrete situations the relationships between gender and their social, economic, political and cultural contexts.

7. Teaching

Course meetings are divided in two parts. The first is a lecture by the invited lecturer. The second consist of a discussion of the literature (as a rule based on questions assigned for discussion by the lecturer). It is important that students read the literature before the lecture. Participation in course meetings is strongly encouraged as examination builds on active participation in the group discussions. At the final course meeting, students present their suggested topics for their course papers. The final seminar is mandatory.

8. Assessment and examination

Examination will be in two parts.

* Students will receive questions on the assigned readings before each seminar meeting. In order to properly understand and discuss these questions, the students need to read the assigned literature prior to each meeting. All students are expected to actively discuss the questions. This means that attendance at the seminar meetings is highly recommended. Written reflections on the questions are uploaded to Mondo no later than one week after the seminar, where;

   (i) students who attended the seminar prepare a written reflection of one of the questions assigned for discussion. The written reflection should include own ideas and reflections on the topic, anchored in the literature. This document should be approximately 1 page.

   (ii) those who did not attend a given seminar write a reflection of all questions assigned for discussion. This document should be ca 3 pages.

* An essay of at most 10 pages (excluding references), which addresses a well-defined research question or debate on a topic covered during the course. The essay can either be (i) analytical and address some of the key theoretical and/or empirical debates in doing gender considering different dimensions and intersectionalities (ethnicity, class, age, region etc) and/or from different perspectives or sites of doing gender, or (ii) an analytical paper in which the student integrates the course readings and discussion to ongoing or future research. Before writing the essay, students will present the topic and the overall framework of their essay to their peers (during the final seminar on the course). It is highly recommended that students get their essay topic approved by the course coordinator in due time before the final seminar.
The students’ performance is graded Not Sufficient, Sufficient, or Good on each of the following criteria:

(i) Argumentation for the topic chosen and formulation of the question addressed (essay)
(ii) Understanding of and ability to describe in theoretical terms fundamental concepts that are relevant to the chosen topic (essay)
(iii) Description of the major trends and/or variations in the phenomenon covered (essay)
(iv) Comparison, synthesis and evaluation of relevant theoretical approaches (essay)
(v) An understanding of the social, economic, political and institutional contexts of gender relevant to the chosen topic (essay)
(vi) Ability to communicate in a clear, flawless and structured manner (essay)
(vii) Classroom participation and written reflections on the literature

The essay is evaluated according to the following criterion-referenced assessment:

- A = Excellent,
- B = Very good,
- C = Good,
- D = Satisfactory,
- E = Sufficient,
- Fx = Not sufficient,
- F = Fail.

To receive grade A the judgement Good is needed for at least 6 of the 7 criteria.
To receive grade B the judgement Good is needed for at least 5 of the 7 criteria.
To receive grade C the judgement Good is needed for at least 3 of the 7 criteria.
To receive grade D the judgement Good is needed for at least 2 of the 7 criteria.
To receive grade E the judgement Sufficient is needed for all criteria.

The judgment Fail in one of the above criteria leads to grade Fx.
The judgment Fail in more than one of the above criteria leads to grade F.

Students receiving grade Fx or F are entitled to further examination as long as the course is provided in order to achieve at least grade E. A student with grade E is not entitled to another examination to raise his/her degree.
Students who received grade Fx or F on exams twice from the same examiner can request to be evaluated by another examiner. Such request should be sent to the Director of Studies.
Students can request to be examined according to this syllabus up to three semesters after it ceased to be valid. Such requests should be sent to the Director of Studies.
